EXMOOR NEWS

DULVERTON & SOUTHERN EXMOOR

We took over the magazine a year ago and how time flies! We would like to thank our advertisers, without whom this magazine would not be possible. Through their valued support, it is issued free. Thanks also to our contributors and distributors.

With an eye to the future we are looking to widen our distribution area and are making enquiries - we now print 2,700 copies.

In response to our in Jan/Feb issue article about an unusual job, we received many comments on how interesting it was and in this issue we publish details of the winner of the competition mentioned in that article; the Golden Fleece.

Please continue to let advertisers know if you found them in our magazine as it means we can keep providing our magazine free to you. Please do send in your stories...

Best wishes, Ceri Keene and Claire Savill

Cert PG, 89 mins.

Vincent Lindon, Karin Petit de Mirbeck,
Matthieu Schaller

Screening 15th March 2017, 7.00pm,
Petroc - Tiverton

Vincent Lindon gives his finest performance as unemployed everyman Thierry, who must submit to a series of quietly humiliating ordeals in his search for work. Futile retraining courses that lead to dead ends, interviews via Skype, an interview-coaching workshop critique of his self-presentation by fellow jobseekers all are mechanisms that serve to break him down and strip him of identity and self-respect. A powerful and troubling vision of the realities of our new economic order.

THE UNCOMMON PLAYERS PRESENT ENDGAME

by Samuel Beckett

DULVERTON TOWN HALL

FRIDAY, MARCH 17th, 7.30pm

Starring Anthony Richards and Philip Robinson

Passing their days in a bare room, the nearly blind, chair-bound tyrant Hamm and his dutiful but resentful and hard of hearing servant Clov exist in a constant see-saw of pathos and hatred, love and hope.

While the battling conversation between master and servant intensifies, Hamm's parents, Nell and Nagg toy with nostalgia. Symbolic of the enthusiasms of youth and how the young can disregard the needs of the old, even as the old reminisce about their youthful enthusiasms.

In this mix of dark comedic wordplay and macabre insight, Beckett's mastery is evident – absurdity in the face of meaninglessness, sorrow in the face of futility, humour in the face of mortality.

Tickets for performance £9.50, students in full time education £7.50, from Dulverton Post Office or contact Jan Ross on 01398 323818, janaross2003@yahoo.co.uk

The Dulverton Players are planning an exciting programme for 2017. They will be staging "rehearsed readings" in March which will give both newcomers and experienced actors a chance to perform short presentations without the responsibility of learning a part. Directed by Roger Watts, the readings will be played in an informal atmosphere before a small audience.

The Dulverton Players' spring production will be "Daisy Pulls It Off" by Denise Deegan, an award-winning comedy.

In July the Players will be staging their popular murder mystery evening. This year's classic whodunit is "Murder at the Party Conference", with one of producer Christine Dubery's delicious suppers. In the autumn the Players will be performing a stage version of the popular TV comedy series, "Allo 'Allo" with Ryun Smallbone directing and starring as the hapless bar-owner, Renee, as he struggles with life in Occupied France.

Gone Fishing

Well it won't be long now before the fishing seasons open, Salmon on the Exe opens on the 14 th Feb, and trout on March 15 th. I hope it is going to be a better season than 2016, so far as the rivers were concerned it was a very dry year which reflected in poor salmon catches. In the 80's, on a good year, the Carnarvon Arms Hotel would catch about 100 salmon, the same at Tarr Steps and other private beats 30 – 60. Now, for the last 3 years catches for the whole Exe system barely reached 100, of which 85% would have been returned. Fortunately a lot of work has been done to improve the river habitat but a huge amount of young salmon will be eaten up by the Goosanders which are invading the upstream sections of the river and need to be culled to preserve all fish life, in the breeding sections of the rivers.

To add to the doom and gloom Wimbleball Lake seems to be in a mess, there will be no boat fishing this year and no more trout stocked. So bank fishing only for a diminishing number of fish, I bet Clatworthy has a good year.

The really good news is that the Dulverton Angling Association has actually purchased its own fishing rights, so protecting its future for the next thousand years....

Tongdam CLOSES for Renovations

After a great deal of consideration we decided that the alterations we required within the building, meant that there would be too much dust and upheaval for us to remain open.

Our CLOSURE period will be from Monday, 23rd January, with us opening our doors again on Monday 10th April 2017. This will mean that we will be open in time for the Thai New Year and Easter Bank Holiday weekend.

Although we will be on site through the closed period, overseeing the renovations, we will not be taking bookings for the 10th April onwards, until 1st April 2017.

Get Well

Many of our readers will know Robin Ashburner, a stalwart supporter of many good causes on Exmoor... get well Robin.

The remote moorland village of Simonsbath might seem an unlikely place for a festival. But Simonsbath Festival is now in its sixth year and continues to draw audiences from far and wide. Visitors from North Devon, West Somerset and further afield have every reason to visit the village of Simonsbath during the six weeks between May Day and Midsummer in its idyllic setting in the magical heart of Exmoor.

Simonsbath Festival is a non-profit making community venture which celebrates the cultural heritage of Exmoor while inviting top musicians from abroad to celebrate theirs in the six weeks between May Day and Midsummer. The festival offers a variety of other events and activities including walks, talks, classical, jazz, opera and world music concerts.

The festival also works with local schools to organise music workshops to teach children traditional music and songs which have been collected on Exmoor. They culminate in a Midsummer family and community concert on June 23 to close the festival.

The dazzling line-up of events for Simonsbath Festival 2017 start in the customary way with May Day celebrations for all the family on Bank Holiday Monday May 1st on Exford Village Green.

Highlights of the festival include concerts by the Lyra Vocal Ensemble from St Petersburg, singing choral music from the Russian Orthodox Church as well as Russian folk songs; the multi-national band Mankala, celebrating the joyous sounds of South Africa, and Cornwall-based Salsa band Kabasa with authentic Latin-American music.

The early jazz of the 1920s comes courtesy of London-based jazz band The Dime Notes and supremely talented violinist Tamsin Waley-Cohen returns to Simonsbath with her newly formed Albion Quartet.

By popular demand the fabulous Pop-up Opera return to Simonsbath Festival and will give their unique take on the 18th century Italian comic opera The Secret Marriage by Domenico Cimarosa.

The festival's mid-week events include an award-winning staging of Austen's Women by touring theatre company Dyad Productions and a presentation the work of the great photographer James Ravilious, who chronicled life in rural Devon in the 1970s and 80s. Local farmer David Kennard, whose DVD 'The Year of the Working Sheepdog' sold 80,000 copies worldwide, talks about juggling life as a farmer and film maker, while TV's Matthew Fort, food and travel writer and judge on The Great British Menu, talks about his new book 'Summer in the Islands'.

Rob Wilson-North and Graham Wills give presentations based on their extensive research which sheds new light on the Knight family, who made the Exmoor we know today, and wildlife expert and photographer Jochen Langbein gives an illustrated talk on Exmoor's Red Deer.

Full details of the programme are available on the website www.simonsbathfestival.org.uk and you can follow the festival on Facebook and Twitter.

WORLD WAR 1 CENTENARY COMMEMORATIONS

John Ambrose Ball

John Ambrose Ball was born in 1888 to James, who was an Agricultural Labourer at Tintagel, and Ann. He was the eldest in the family and had three brothers, William, James and Charles and two sisters, Annie and Mary. By 1901 his father, James, was working as an agricultural labourer at Winkleigh but John, at just 14, had left home and was working for James and Ann Ward at North Hole Farm, Iddesleigh as the Cattle man. In 1909 John had married Edith Annie Blake from Withleigh and by 1911 they were living at 2 Riphay Cottages at Exebridge and John was working as a carter on the farm. They had a son in 1910, William John (Bill to everybody) and many of you will remember the somewhat eccentric character he became driving for Fulford Phillips and others in the 1960's.

John joined the 8th Battalion of the Devonshire Regiment and died on the 21st February 1916. He is remembered at the Meaulte Military Cemetery.

THE ROTARY CLUB OF EXMOOR

EXMOOR DOES JAZZ - A successful night of New Orleans jazz, organised by The Rotary Club of Exmoor, was held in Brushford Parish Hall on Saturday, 21 January featuring Jeremy Huggett and his Dart Valley Stompers. Word is getting around and we look forward to an even greater number attending on 25 March when we shall feature Roger Marks and his Cornish Armada.

Formed in 2008, Roger's newest band has proved to be popular playing to full houses almost everywhere. Exmoor Does Jazz has got off to a good start with excellent local support from the Dulverton and Bampton areas. We intend to continue, assuming your enthusiastic support, with a session upon a bi-monthly basis. The net proceeds are used to support the charitable work for which the club exists. We are a thriving club with an expanding membership base and further details can be found at - www.exmoor-rotary.org.uk. Should you wish to be kept abreast concerning our bi-monthly jazz events, then please register your interest including your name and telephone number by sending an email to:- exmoorrotaryjazz@aol.com

News from the Exmoor Pony Centre, Ashwick, Dulverton TA22 9QE

Work at the Pony Centre doesn't stop even though its chilly winter time. The ponies certainly keep us busy and warm.

In Mid-January staff at the Centre were preparing for ten ponies to travel to a new home with Durham Wildlife Trust at their Rainton Meadows Reserve. The time to say farewell came on the 17th January with the day of the move starting at 4.30 in the morning on Exmoor and by the early afternoon they were arriving to a crowd of people all eagerly awaiting their new four legged lawn mowers. Durham Wildlife Trust became interested in using the Moorland Mousie Trust for their Exmoor pony needs when they saw how other organisations in the north of England were using the charity and its ponies for conservation grazing. The ponies will be helping to improve habitat on some of DWT's reserves between the rivers Tees and Tyne.

That same day, the Centre played host to a group of around 50 members of the Chinese community from the Exeter area; a visit arranged by Exmoor National Park and Hikmat Devon CIC. The group enjoyed a talk by Linzi about Exmoor ponies and the work of MMT and the Pony Centre before meeting the ponies for a chance to cuddle and groom and concluding with sandwiches and cake in the Green Room. Everyone said how much they enjoyed the visit and many said they would come back.

The Exmoor Pony Centre is always pleased to welcome groups to see the work of the Moorland Mousie Trust, our parent charity, at first hand and learn more about the breed. The visits are informative and fun with plenty of opportunity for hands-on interaction with the ponies. In the past we have welcomed U3A and community groups, student and school groups and adult learning groups. If you are interested in a group visit please contact us.

Our volunteers enjoyed a belated Christmas Social recently to catch up on plans for 2017 and to get together and meet others who share the same passions. We have a devoted team of volunteers helping with a variety of tasks from ponies to admin to fundraising. We are always in desperate need of more helpers so please do get in touch if you could spare any time to help the charity. You will find a warm welcome!

The Centre opened on Monday 13th February and Treks and Riding sessions resume at the end of March. The next Activity Afternoon on will be on Sunday, 9th April from 11am to 3pm to include pony rides, grooming, refreshments and family fun. Full schedule for 2017 is on our website. We hope you can join us.

Dulverton Gardening Club

The new season starts and we have a full programme of events and talks coming up. The Schedule for the Flower and Produce Show on Saturday August 19th in the Town Hall is now available from Dulverton Post Office and M & H Vegetable Shop. Now's the time to plan and plant.

First talk of the year in January was given by Sam Brown, National Trust gardener, on the restoration of the Victorian walled garden at Knightshayes, on the outskirts of Tiverton. Sam told us how the garden and 19 glasshouses had provided fresh fruit and vegetables for the house during the late 1800's.

With the advent of the First World War, as with many large estates, the gardeners at Knightshayes downed their spades and hoes and took up arms, sadly many of them not returning. By the time of the Second World War numbers had further declined although the garden still produced supplies when the house was used as a hospital. When commercially grown produce became readily available, the garden ceased to be cost effective. By the 1970's the garden had been abandoned, the glasshouses had fallen into disrepair and at one point it was used to graze sheep and even served as an overflow car park!

In 1999 the Trust undertook a project to restore the garden to its former glory and by 2003 was fully productive again providing fresh fruit and vegetables for the restaurant kitchen.

The glasshouses however were beyond repair and were finally demolished. However, the restoration is continuing and it's hoped to rebuild one of the original Victorian glasshouses. The Trust only has a small number of permanent gardeners and is always grateful for any help provided by volunteers. If you're interested in lending a hand in the garden then contact Sam on sam.brown@nationaltrust.org.uk

Welcome back! Dulverton Farmers Market is open for business again!

Taking place on the last Saturday of every month commencing in April and for each of the following six months, our town will host another successful market in the Lion Car Park. The market will open from 10 am till 2:30.

Traders will sell their locally produced food and drink and, as you will remember, a wonderful choice of street food to take away or eat right there and then!

Alternative parking is provided free on market days at Exmoor House and directions will be given for visitors.

As you know, this market gives the town an extra boost to its permanent traders as well as bringing interesting local skills and expertise.

We really hope you will continue to support our local community by coming to the market in the centre of town, tasting delicious food, sampling new menus and, most of all, entering into the spirit of community life, by chatting to traders who are proud of what they produce and are more than happy to share their enthusiasm with you.

If you are a producer and would like details of the cost for pitches please contact 01398 323474. We look forward to meeting you again at Dulverton Farmers Market!

Social Netball

Every Thursday, 6.30-8.00pm, at Dulverton Junior School TA22 9DE. £3 for non-members; the first three sessions are free. We welcome new members of all abilities and fitness levels, and offer the chance to play competitive netball, social netball, or just attend training if you prefer. We also enjoy socialising as much as our netball, with an extensive social events programme!

Search for Dulverton Netball Club on Facebook or phone Lindsay Smith on 07973 146571.

Exmoor Croquet Club

The Exmoor Croquet Club will begin their 2017 season on 4 th April. We meet at 2pm every Tuesday till the end of October, at the QE 2 Playing Field behind the church at Exford.

We are a friendly club who play for fun and companionship. You don't need to be 'sporty' or 'athletic', so why not come and enjoy a game? We'd love to see you. For more details contact: Diana 01643 831439 ; Ines 01643 831016; Connie 01398 341566

Dulverton and Exmoor Squash – the great indoors

Two squash courts were built in 1984 for the whole community, by local enthusiasts, at the award winning Sportsfield in the middle of Dulverton. Locals borrowed money from guarantors who were soon paid back by the 200 members. They built a £74k project themselves for £34k. The Sports Council said it would never work – too wet and not enough people! Monthly boxes and ladders took off, even a team in the county tournament – and the beautiful courts, the envy of bigger cities are still going strong 32 years later.

Membership costs £60, £100 for the whole family, £10 if you're in full time education. Under 14s are free as part of our youth policy. 50% discount for new members. An hour's play costs £3 each to keep the lights on. That keeps the courts solvent. The courts, with ladies' and men's changing and showers, are Dulverton's best (only?) indoor sports facility, available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, play whenever you wish. Perfect for long wet winter evenings and early mornings.

Come along free on Monday evening from 6pm to 9pm for club night. One of the regulars will teach you to play. Racketball, an easier version of squash, is available for small people and beginners. See you soon. Contact ace Secretary Chris Winter if you need more information or would like to join chriscwin@aol.com

The Big Sleep

What's happening? Why do I have to get up? It's still dark. Okay. Her electric toothbrush's going. Why does my buddy get so excited about it. I know.

It's just an excuse to shout in my ear again. He's been doing this a lot recently. Yawn. Shove off! I'm having a lie in.

We have to go to the office e-v-e-r-y day. It's meant to provide some form of stimulation. We let people in the front door nicely and go to the postbox a couple of times. S-n-o-r-ing. I'm alright once I get out of the house though and have a stretch as long as we head in the direction of the car. There's a rug in the back of that and once the heater gets fired up, I might stand up to bark out of the window at a passing neighbour. There's several of those up and down our street early morning. Tia and Stanley always bark back which is nice but old Molly hasn't got the energy anymore. Oh, it's so quiet. Sigh. There are some new kids on the block. My buddy's got a real nose for it and explodes into action when he gets onto the scent and keeps me in touch.

We had a nice time at Christmas – visits to the pubs that had a roaring fire to curl up to. Lots of meat 'n' veg AND gravy. Got left behind one day when She went Christmas shopping. She was gone a long time. It was dark when she left and dark when she got back. A really nice lady came to see us to make sure we were alright and took us for a walk, plumped our beds up when we got back and put the tele on.

When She finally got home I was really pleased to see her. My buddy danced all over the house and demolished the shoes she'd been wearing. Stupid dog.

She pats us on the head reassuringly now

Pilgrimage to Assisi and Florence: in the steps of St Francis

The Revd Andrew Thomas will be leading a benefice pilgrimage to Assisi (7 nights) and Florence (3 nights) from 4 – 14 September 2017. This will combine worship and sightseeing, with some free time included. The party will number no more than 20 and we will have the services of a guide and air-conditioned coach throughout. There will be time for worship, contemplation and reflection as well as seeing some wonderful examples of Italian art and architecture. There will be a fair amount of walking, so it is perhaps not best suited to those with mobility issues.

Full details are available in the brochure, with booking form, from Jane Erith, 11 Nicholas Close, Brushford, Dulverton TA22 9AS (01398 323879 and email: jerith@waitrose.com)
